our Firm in Portage, Mr. S. Goar secrets to sign the Firm por process, he barred on the roof of a lower house, and to Vekenana, He Bruskeleer, Werbronk, and Verheiven were armed with game. The tiger having perceived them, slowly descended from the roof, evidently bent on incking an attack, and when about four metres off he conched to f. wike his spring. The order to fire was given, sy and their game were disdringed in succession, in The first abot appeared to have missed, the tel second struck the animal, the third inflicted a of mortal would. He tottepal back to the enbal trance of the chief, where M. Do Buskelmer ent finished him with a franth shot. These genver themen behaved with great intropidity, and but o for their goslaces and the incasures they ned adopted, much greater labory would have been done. The gardener who was attacked never ad spoke, and died, in the baspital at six o'clock the same morning."

A Mighty Hunter. Under the alvive title we gave an extract, or the 29th of May, from the Field, and as contrast to that, the following is now quoted from the Patt Mall Gazette. We published some time since a condensed ag mint of a very remarkable sporting adventure in Abyasinia, which had appeared in the columns of a contamp mary. It was written in the most approved style of African adventure, .. and was separational in the highest degree. A inrgeon, attached to hir B. Napier's force, had all game forth, accompanied by a European soldier and two natives, " to try and bug a lion." this fall back upon a hert of slephants, of which he hid assumted for four. Charged by an inforcated male, he had according to the heat proceedents, waited till the beast was within six yards of him, and then, raising "his little Westley Richard," had "let him have it ouncily between the eyes. When of course the elephants elephants e were than rapidly disposed of by "a right and before his double Mortiner:" and finally, a couple of Enfield bullets, one placed "rather low," brought to larg at his very fact another then considered built galloping like a receiptive and trampeting fortunity." Whilst these marvellous mule, fests of venery wers bring medieved, the two fil. as wouldly natives were gestientating and serving in ing with fear, the European sublict having endhe hear from a correspondent at Zella that the "Of Recognit in question was read, when our paper so prejud there, with abouts of laughter, the bero 30 of the adventure being by no means a sporting hits timpheramonyal his own comredes, and being and implecionaly afflicted with a dissuss not uncomgiven mon anongst African explorers, known as bute | a slightantianis of the imagination." The letter from Zadla declares that the only elephant the cipte appropriate had to deal with was a commissional rest animal, and that the gestionistions and shouts all of the natives, attered in a tonging which he ture did not randorshand, were unvely carnest re-epsit-most quites against firing at that inaffersive most quitassful minual, which, however, escaped att and useful minud, which, however, escaped all (Brown the Times.) A letter from Mr. Boustead, a surgeon with ate's the army in Aliysainia, was published last to spring in the Eight, giving an necessarit of an essel advocture which had befollen him when out that he was at a charged by several of these unitals, killing lard three of them and wounding a fourth, which forest rescaped. On Saturday Last we quated a their paragraph from the Pull Mill Gastic, in which the the whole story was presented a boast it appears, therewers that the veracity of Mr. Bouteel, like limit of other Abyssinian travel. fers whose stritements, buye been questioned, can be established by good evidence. The Field into of this week anys:— Prior to the receipt of his other letter as knew nothing of Mr. Houstend; but we happened to be personally apparinted with an officer of the same regiment who had arrived they in Emphand from Abysaints at the same time as the latter, and this gentled in (hieutement of the latter). mirt. If foundar but Balanois Regiment) informating quide. the the was at soors, at the time of the advenre at ture; that he saw brought thto camp the tasks right of two of the elephants which Mr. Boustend had shot; and that he had brought to Eugland, to to deliver to friends of Mr. Bonstead, the tails of still. these two elegibants, which had been out off as very trophics. The tubbs of the third elephant were sold to be fetched on the fell-wing day, but he did he not see trem, as by ser out for England-next coods | morning before the bearers had returned."
